

Analisis Pengaruh Variabel Indikator Makro Ekonomi Terhadap Ekonomi Makro Indonesia: Pendekatan Pasar Barang dan Pasar Uang Periode 1990.1-2003.4

Nirdukita Ratnawati dan Rulli Rizki
Fakultas Ekonomi, Universitas Trisakti

ABSTRACT

Research of Indonesia macroeconomics using orientation of goods market and money market done for examination general equilibrium macroeconomics based on Goods Market and Money Market. The objectives of this research are to defines correlate of various variables that will shows the Indonesia national incomes as an impact with Product Domestic Bruto instead of. This research has been also adding dummy variable to shows whether they have any differentiation between macroeconomics condition before and along crisis happen in 1997 quartal 3 in goods market.

In mathematic ways, general equilibrium macroeconomics based on approach money market and goods market create by various equation which sequentially one and another variables, so that simultaneous equation will exactly thought right in this research. The accurate data that used in this research are historical data from 1990:1 till 2003:4.

The result of this research for macroeconomics conditions in goods market side informed that there are some deference condition in macroeconomics that showed by macroeconomics indicators in goods market with support Indonesia national incomes like investations and export. For macroeconomics condition in money market that money demand in Indonesia effected by national incomes and deposit interest rate.

Key Words: National Incomes, Goods Market, Money Market, Dummy Variable and Simultaneous Equation.